Atkinson Memorial Church, 710 Sixth Street, Oregon City

Learning Topic:

Social Change As Religious Vocation The Fruits of the Radical Spirit

With the Reverend Deborah Holder, Minister of Beloved Community Formation,
UUA Mountain Desert District

☪ Building Beloved Community:

How Do We Lead our Need to Talk Meaningfully About Race, Class & Privilege?

☪ Shifting the Paradigm:

Whole Church Mission, Small Group Ministry & Social Change as Vocation

☪ At Home In Creativity

Deborah Holder is a community minister specializing in religion and social change, community organizing and social administration. Prior to entering the ministry, she was an economic justice organizer and social justice funder with the UU Veatch Program at Shelter Rock. As the Mountain Desert District Justice Ministries Program enters its tenth year, she joins us to share some of the faith-based resources for congregational social change developed along the way. This program is specifically targeted to UU board members, clergy and religious educators, and to youth, young adult and other program leaders. You'll learn the fundamentals you need to integrate social justice as an inspiring guide to your congregation's ongoing mission, vision and Ends.

- $100 for your congregational team!
- Lunch is included
- Goodwill offering will be invited for a Social Justice initiative of our host congregation
